Proves to be Escaped Asylum Inmate.

A. C. Pack, arrested in this city and lodged in jail on a charge of forgery, proved to be an escaped inmate of the asylum at Lexington, which was disclosed after an investigation made by the police of this city Wednesday, and he was returned to that institution.

Pack, who gave Cincinnati as his home, had been around Paris several days and appeared to be in search of employment. He applied at a number of places but without result. Tuesday morning he entered the store of Mr. James Daugherty on Main street and asked to be given a blank First National Bank check.

Securing the check he stopped on his way out of the store at a desk and filled out the check for $9 which was made payable to himself and signed the name of J. A. Daugherty. Going across the street he presented it to the manager of the National Five and Ten Cent Store, and asked for the money upon it, but payment was refused. He then agreed to discount the check rather than go to the bank, and he was again refused.

Pack then went to the grocery store of S. T. Chipley on South Main street and presented the check. Being refused he went across the street to Curtis Henry's, agreeing again to discount the check but Mr. Henry declined to give him the money. In the meantime Mr. Chipley called Mr. Daugherty over the telephone, who informed him the check was a forgery and told him to hold the man. Pack returned in a few minutes and Mr. Chipley, who was on the lookout for him, informed him he had gotten some money in and would cash the check. Detaining him a few minutes Chief of Police Elgin arrived on the scene and took the man into custody.

On being searched at the jail another check payable to A. C. Pack was found in his possession which was made out for $9 and the name of J. W. White signed to it. Pack, who looked to be about 19 years of age appeared at the boarding house of Mrs. Lina Cox and asked for accommodations. Upon being informed he would have to pay in advance he went away but returned shortly afterward with an order bearing the signature of B. P. Thomas. He claimed he had secured employment at the tailoring establishment of Thomas Bros.

Pack, at times acted queerly which prompted the police to institute an investigation before taking the man to trial. On his shirt was found the number "63," which led them to believe he had escaped from an asylum and Chief of Police Elgin got into immediate communication with the authorities at Lakeland.

He gave a description of the man held in custody which was identical with that of one of the inmates who had escaped from that institution last Sunday. Wednesday afternoon an attaché of the asylum came to Paris and identified the man, who was taken back to Lexington.

Kentucky Tobacco Worst in Years.

The government has made an exhaustive report on the tobacco crop.

In the burley district only 61 per cent of the 1910 area was planted. Planting was irregular owing to the irregular rains. The present condition does not indicate a good crop.

The Paducah district as a whole has about 66 per cent of last year's acreage. The stand is bad and the prospect is for a late inferior crop.

The crop in the Henderson district is two weeks late, with a bad stand, the condition being the worst in several years, the government says.

The condition in the upper Green River district does not indicate a good crop. On account of the low prices last year very little burley has been planted in this district.

Prospects in the upper Cumberland district are declared to be "the poorest in several years."

Concerning the Clarksville and Hopkinsville district the report says that the prospect is "for the shortest and poorest crop in years."

Kentucky's total tobacco acreage this year is given as 310,500 by the government. The condition of the crop of the State at large is .69, as against .88 in 1910 and a ten-year average of .84.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.
Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.
Because—it cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—it enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.
Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

Wheat for Feed.

An exchange says: Wheat is now cheaper than corn, and is said by those who have tried it to be much better feed, but there are some farmers now selling their wheat at the mill at 80 cents per bushel and at the time buying corn to feed at a greater price per bushel. Besides being of a really better feed value pound for pound, there are four pounds more in a bushel of wheat than in a bushel of corn. A gentleman told us the other day, says an exchange, that wheat put in water at night to soak until the next morning for feed was far better for hogs than corn in any form, and now that it is cheaper than corn farmers should certainly make the very best of the situation and give the feeding of wheat a thorough trial.

Kentucky State Banks.

Secretary of State Bruner Tuesday made the statement that there are 478 state banks and trust companies doing business in Kentucky. Nine banks have been closed and three new banks started since the report made to Secretary Bruner in April, at which time 484 banks reported. The banks closed are: Farmers' Bank, Columbus; Rough River Bank, Falls of Rough; Highland Park Bank, Louisville; Blue Grass Bank, Midway; Phoenix Bank, Olive Hill; Citizens' Bank, Paris; Bank of Willard, Willard; Ballard County Bank, Bandana; Farmers' Bank, Summersville.

The new banks organized are: Bowling Green Trust Company; German American Bank, Carrollton; Farmers' Bank, Centertown.

Banks Are in Good Condition.

Reports of 478 State banks to the Secretary of State as of July 18 show total assets of $104,942,433.37, as against $104,865,254.37 on June 30 last year, an increase of $77,000 in assets. Nineteen banks each have assets exceeding a million and 208 have over $100,000 each.

Predicts End of World.

"The world will come to an end within a very few years," declared Elder O. Montgomery, president of the Indiana Conference of the Seventh Day Adventists, during the service at a campmeeting now progressing there.

"I cannot set the year. It may be next year, it may be five years. But I do know that it will come before the death of the last man who saw the falling of the stars on November 13, 1833. There are few people living now who saw that phenomenon and I know that the end will come before all of them are gone."

Elder Montgomery said that science had been unable to solve the falling of the stars in 1833 and that he has Scriptural proof that the millennium would occur within the generation following such an event.

Pellagra Spreading.

The spread of pellagra in the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky has become so alarming and deaths from the disease have become numerous.

Announcement was made from the Eastern Kentucky Asylum at Lexington Tuesday morning that another death, making the third in all since the disease made its appearance, has occurred there from pellagra, and that there are now between twenty and twenty-five cases at the institution, with a number of suspects under surveillance.

As only seventeen cases were reported last week, this latest bulletin indicates that the disease is spreading. The latest victim was Rhetta Hinchcomb, aged forty years, of Letcher county. The woman had been an inmate of the institution for two years and developed the disease since being there.

Inscription Grew With Vegetable. Vegetable marrows which, when young, had inscriptions cut on them were a feature of the exhibition of the Hornsey (Eng.) Allotment association. The inscriptions grew with the produce, and on one large specimen the Lord's prayer was neatly engraved.

DAGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases are Too Dangerous for Paris People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with the reliable and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in this locality.

Mrs. A. B. Renaker, Court street, Cynthiana, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills positively relieved me of a severe attack of kidney disease from which I had suffered for years. I do not think it necessary to go into details concerning my case, but I can recommend this remedy, knowing that it lives up to the claims made for it. I have not had a recurrence of my former trouble and it is only with a desire to tell other kidney sufferers of a good kidney remedy that I endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Special Term of Court.

A special term of the Breathitt Circuit Court has been called to begin August 14, for the trial of the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Little, and Commonwealth vs. Tucker. Little is charged with the murder of Matt Crawford at the Crawford Distillery, near Jackson, last October. The case was tried at the October term of the Court and was later reversed by the alleged feeling of hostility against Little, because of the prominence of the Crawford family. Tucker is charged with the murder of Chester Back, which was committed last May.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

MARK TWAIN'S DOUBLE.

His Photograph Did Valuable Service
For the Humorist.

Mark Twain had many doubles scattered about the world, and about once a month he would receive a letter from some new double enclosing a photograph, says Archibald Henderson in his book "Mark Twain." To one of these doubles Mark Twain wrote:

My Dear Sir—Many thanks for your letter with inclosed photographs. Your resemblance to me is remarkable. In fact,
to be perfectly honest, you look more like me than I do myself. I was so much impressed by the resemblance that I have had your picture framed and am now using it regularly in place of a mirror to shave by. Yours gratefully,
S. L. CLEMENS.

Mr. Henderson tells of the humorist's complaining to him that it was almost impossible to make the public forget that he was a humorist even when he wanted to be serious.

"It has been a very difficult matter," declared Mark Twain. "to doff the mask of humor with which the public is accustomed to see me adorned. It is the incorrigible custom of the public to see only humor in the humorist, however serious his vein.

"Not long ago I wrote a poem which I never dreamed of giving to the public on account of its seriousness, but
on being invited to address the women students of a great university I was persuaded by a near friend to read this poem. At the close of the lecture I said:

"Now, ladies, I am going to read
you a poem of mine," which was greeted with bursts of uproarious laughter.
'But this is a truly serious poem,' I asseverated, only to be greeted with renewed laughter.

"Nettled by this misunderstanding, I put the poem in my pocket, saying,
'Well, young ladies, since you do not believe me to be serious, I shall not read the poem,' at which the audience
almost went into convulsions of laughter."

Jagging Jennie.

He had joined the multitude in New York since his quick fortune came to him and was entertaining his friends at dinner. The service was magnificent, and so was the dinner. His wife, gorgeously clad, reigned over the table.
During a lull in the conversation he watched a servant who was dexterously removing crumbs from the cloth. Then he looked down the glistening
table at his jeweled wife and remarked:

"Jennie, remember when you used to shake the tablecloth out of the back door to the hens?"

Spoiling a Picture.

strike people that there may be more than one kind of brutality."

"What's the matter with Ames?" demanded one of the men on the clubhouse porch.

"Up in Canada last fall," Fobes readily resumed, "I went off by myself one day, when Ames was fiddling over his kodak, and I stumbled full on a black bear. Because I was the only thing in sight, very likely, I became the immediate object of her ugly attentions. I ran. I had only a slight lead, but I was going pretty well when Ames poked
through the brush and took in the situation.

"Hold on there, old chap!" he yelled.
'You're too far ahead. I can't get you both in.'—Youth's Companion.

His Opponent.

Johnny's mother bought him a fire engine. He wanted to see how it worked, and of course in a very short time the wheels were off. She was naturally very angry with him and punished him severely. When daddy came home he found his small son with very red eyes.

"Why, my poor old man," he inquired, "what is the matter?"
"Nuffing," sniffed the small boy.
"But something must be wrong,"
persisted daddy. "Do tell me."

"Oh, well, if you want to know,"
said the little boy, "I have just been having an awful row with my wife."

One of Jerrold's.

Douglas Jerrold's wit was sometimes rather heartless. "The Life of Sir William Russell" has the story of one George Huddle, who went to Jerrold
one day. "I want your help," he said;
"I'm in trouble. The Morning — has dismissed me."

"You don't say, my dear George.
They've had a gleam of intelligence at last!"

"Don't joke, my dear Jerrold. I really want your advice. I am thinking of going into the coal trade."

"Capital!" said Jerrold. "You see, you've got the sack to begin with."

Converting a Skeptic.

David Hume, the famous Scottish philosopher and skeptic, once for a short time involuntarily posed as an out and out Christian, and the story of very temporary conversion to orthodoxy is amusing.

Having fallen into a swamp at the back of Edinburgh castle, he called for assistance to a woman who was passing. At first she took no notice, but presently she asked:

"Are na ye Hume, the atheist?"

"Weel, weel, no matter," Hume said.
"Christian charity commands you to do good to every one."

"Christian charity here or Christian charity there," the woman said, "I'll do naething for you till you turn a Christian yourself—ye maun repeat the Lord's Prayer and the Creed or faith I'll let ye grafel (grovel) there as I found ye."

And he had to repeat them.

Deeds of Aspiration.

What though your lot in life seems poor
and small?
What though in great accomplishment
you fail?
Let not the thought of this your soul ap-pall Nor think your days are spent without avail.

A noble aspiration is a deed
Though unachieved, and he who judges
man

Upon his lofty throne will give it heed,
And all will be rewarded as they plan.
—John Kendrick Bangs.

The Difference Between Them.

Joseph H. Choate and Chauncey Depew were invited to a dinner. Mr.
Choate was to speak, and it fell to the lot of Mr. Depew to introduce him, which he did thus: "Gentlemen, permit me to introduce Ambassador Choate, America's most inveterate after dinner speaker. All you need to do to get a speech out of Mr. Choate is to open his mouth, drop in a dinner
and up comes your speech."

Mr. Choate thanked the senator for his compliment and then said, "Mr.
Depew says if you will open my mouth and drop in a dinner up will come a speech, but I warn you that if you open your mouths and drop in one of Senator Depew's speeches up will come your dinners."

A Frank Reply.

Walter I. Smith, who recently became judge of the Eighth judicial circuit, enjoys a good story even when it is at his own expense. He had a warm contest in the primaries when he was candidate for re-election to congress in 1910, his opponent being one of the insurgents. He had few votes to spare for the nomination.

"Before the election," said Judge Smith, "I wrote a letter to all the Republicans in the district. In it I urged them to come out and vote, saying that '9,000 Republicans failed to vote at the primaries' and that if they failed to vote on election day it might mean disaster to the party. I asked the person to whom the letter was addressed to vote and also to get his neighbors to do the same, closing with the statement that it would be a great help to the Republican party and I should regard it as a personal favor to myself.

"Among the replies I received was a copy of my own letter with a blue pencil mark round the words '9,000
Republicans failed to vote at the primaries,' and this written at the bottom, 'It's a — good thing for you
they did.'"

A Disturbed Taste.

The neighbors having dropped in informally upon the Suthrons during the evening, Mrs. Suthron suggests that if her husband will gather some mint from the mint bed in the garden she will mix for them a genuine Kentucky julep. Mr. Suthron, who has indulged in a matter of seven or eight genuine Kentucky juleps prior to the arrival of the guests, goes willingly in search of the desired garnishment for the drink. He remains in the garden quite awhile, and finally the others go out to ascertain what causes the delay.

"Why don't you bring the mint,
dear?" his wife calls.

From somewhere in the darkness
comes the testy response:

"Jane, I've eaten my way twice around this lot. I've chewed geranium leaves, grass, catnip, tulips, onions, sage and burdock, but blamed if I can find a sprig of mint anywhere."—Na-

The Heroine of the Tale.

When Congressman J. Hampton
Moore was a reporter in Philadelphia
he was assigned one night to go out and get a human interest story about a woman who had died at the age of eighty-eight, leaving a twin sister,
with whom she had lived for fifty years, as sole survivor of an old family.

The house stood opposite a cemetery on the outskirts of the town, and Moore wished, as he pulled aside the curtain to ring the bell, that his city editor wouldn't be so fertile with his ideas of human interest stories. A woman friend of the aged sisters opened the door and ushered J. Hampton into the parlor, over in one corner
of which rested the dead sister in her coffin.

The neighbor seemed to feel it was up to her to entertain the reporter
while he was waiting for the other sister to drag herself in for the interview. By way of small talk the woman motioned with her thumb in the direction of the coffin and remarked:

"That's the lady that died."

"I suspected as much," replied Moore.

Famous Men Tall and Short.

Among the very distinguished men of the country were some of large stature—Charles Sumner, more than six feet, four inches; Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, considerably more than six feet in height. Among those of six feet and over may be mentioned
Samuel Adams, George Washington,
Lincoln, Blsmarck, Thackeray, Charles
Darwin, Henry Ward Beecher, Rufus Choate and Daniel O'Connell. The list of famous men of medium height is long, including Browning and John Adams.

Compliment Well Returned.

The story is told that Judge Story and Edward Everett were once the prominent personages at a public dinner in Boston. The former as a voluntary toast, gave: "Fame follows merit where Everett goes." The gentleman thus delicately complimented at once arose, and replied with this equally felicitous impromptu: "To whatever height judicial learning may attain in this country, there will always be one Story higher."

Must Prepare Bridal Dinner.

A quaint, old superstition in Iceland
is that every bride must invite all her friends to a dinner in her own home,
and every article of food must be prepared by the bride herself. If she is successful in pleasing her guests she not only receives praise for her own skill, but helps along her younger sisters, who are then assumed to be equally good at cooking, and consequently have a much better chance of getting married.

Dominican Lotteries.

Lotteries are operated in all important towns and cities of the Dominican republic. In many of the larger cities there are from two to five, practically all under municipal supervision. Seventy per cent. must be given in prizes, 5 per cent. goes for streets
and roads, and the rest, less expenses,
is divided among the public hospitals,
schools, fire departments and charities.

Smallest Inhabited Island.

People who inhabit some of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence river claim that they are the smallest inhabited islands in the world, but it has recently been determined that the site of the Eddystone lighthouse is entitled to the distinction, the island
upon which this lighthouse is built being only 30 feet in diameter at low tide.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed By a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes
Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was
three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema
and all other serious skin diseases,
that its value is sometimes overlooked
in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Winter-green, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

BUTTER AWARDS WILL TEMPT THE FARMERS

NEW DEPARTURE PROVIDED, AT SUGGESTION OF EXPERI-MENT STATION.

Special attention will be given this year in connection with the Kentucky State Fair to creamery butter. The management desires to encourage this industry in Kentucky and it has been decided that creamery butter, honey and sorghum molasses will be placed in the horticultural department. Heretofore it has been a part of the field, seed and grain department. The horticultural department always is one of the most interesting at the big fair,
and not alone to the residents of the rural sections, and the addition of these displays will increase the interest materially.

Members of the state fair board express the opinion that a more important feature than that of creamery butter will be hard to find and the display is expected to be such as to evidence the lead which Kentucky has taken in this phase of agricultural endeavor.

The experiment station of Kentucky State university recommends the creamery butter display.

FREE ADMISSION NIGHT HORSE SHOW

POPULAR INNOVATION FOR NINTH ANNUAL STATE FAIR.

"I'LL BE THERE; WILL YOU?"

Slogan For All Kentuckians Is Adopted By Management—Perry's Victory on Lake Erie.

Dozens of new departments and attractions which have been created by the state fair board for the coming 9th annual state fair do not by any means constitute all of the inducements to the public to attend, as a proposition which caps the climax for generosity has been finally decided upon. That is to admit the public to the big horse show at night in the pavilion free of charge. To be exact, the only requirement for admission to this show, one which will include dozens of horses which have carried off premiums in the most exclusive shows in the country, will be to buy a ticket for admission at the gate. In the past an extra admission fee of 25 cents has been charged for the privilege of the horse show held each night.

The only exception to this rule will be that a few seats will be roped off and tickets for these will be sold. But those not wishing to pay an extra quarter, even though the horse show will be worth double that sum, may see it in perfect comfort by occupying free of charge any of the seats not reserved to be sold.

For Kentucky's Benefit.

As a result of this and other inducements, the greeting, "I'll be there;
will you?" is expected to be heard on all hands prior to and during fair week. By the way, there is a good deal of real patriotism embodied in this expression, "I'll be there; will you?" when it is heard in connection with the big show which is being prepared for the people of Kentucky.
This will not be a fair for the material
benefit of one man or set of men.
Many business men are giving up their time, and going to much trouble,
without recompense of any character, in order to make the fair a success.

Tens of thousands of dollars will be paid out to Kentuckians in premiums, the industries and resources of the state will be helped and the citizens given an opportunity to see and learn, at a cost of fifty cents each,
more than could be seen or learned under such circumstances anywhere else in the country except at a similar institution. Therefore, when a Kentuckian along about the time state fair week approaches is heard giving his neighbor this greeting, he is interested in encouraging the exhibition of the products of his home state and he is entitled to all credit.

The Kentucky State Fair is developing each year more and more into a place where friendships are renewed, relatives are met, voters are corralled and conventions of all characters held. In the past the convention tent has been located at an out-of-the-way place hard to find and poorly located. Secretary P. M. Shy has decided this year to locate it to the left
as the visitor to the ground enters,
directly opposite the Model School building. A commodious tent will be provided and all arrangements necessary to the holding of the different gatherings made.

Bureau of Information.

Still another innovation, and one which most probably will appeal to the public forcibly, will be a Bureau of Information located just at the point where the main road for pedestrians branches off around the semi-circular piece of lawn used as a resting place. Secretary Shy says that in this Bureau of Information he will have established a man who knows his business and who will freely give any information as to points around the fair grounds.

Perry's famous victory on Lake Erie, which soon is to be celebrated in an imposing manner by representatives of several states, together with the national government, will be among the fire works features. This is a feature not only apropos but one which promises to be of thrilling interest.

SPORTING NEWS LETTER

By C. H. ZUBER.

Cincinnati, August 10—Nearly every season some lowly team bobs up at a critical stage of the championship race, and by a few well directed blows proceeds to kill the pennant hopes of some high-class, aspiring aggregation. That was the sort of performance the Reds gave in the recent series with the Philadelphia. Capt. Mike Donlan and his athletes came to town determined to make a clean sweep of it with the Reds. Hadn't they found them easy picking before, and was there any reason to suppose that they would be any different on this occasion. Sure thing. So Donlan and his crew figured these contests to be played on the local greensward as being part of their winning percentage. But when they left town Sunday night with nary a Red scalp hanging from their belts, with three defeats chalked up against them, and with the pennant hopes largely blasted. Last year it was the St. Louis Cardinals that put the New York out of the running, and the year before that the Reds by a few unexpected victories over the Giants allowed Pittsburg to come home with the conks. Moral: Beware the lowly team at the time the fight for the flag is hottest.

The Reds will have another opportunity of placing ashes on the sliding track to the pennant next Sunday when they meet the Pirates in a double-header on the local lot. Clarke's men have been going good of late, and at several stages have threatened to change places with the Chicago. It is possible that they will do so as a result of this double header, or it is possible that a pair of defeats on the occasion of that meeting will result in their being pushed just far enough down the ladder to keep them from making the necessary hot finish when the time comes. The Reds now are playing a higher class of base ball than at any time this season. The infield appears to have braced up, the pitchers are working better, and more judgment is being exercised on the bases than heretofore. Under these conditions Griffith's men are certain to be dangerous for the rest of the season, even though they do not reach a higher position than that which they now occupy.

There's quite a crop of youngsters promised for the local team by the time they return from their next Eastern trip, which begins next week. Among those who are certain to be on hand for a try-out are Pitchers Compton, of Dayton; Boyd, of Ottawa, and Benton, of the Southern League, the latter a left-hander. Then there will be Catchers Murphy, of Dallas, and Murphy, of the Central Association; Second Baseman Benson, of Dayton, and three men of various positions from California. There may also be several others added in the meantime, but the above are certain, not forgetting the sensational Arthur Phelan, third baseman, who also comes up from the Southern League. Manager Griffith has instruction from President Herrman to try out these youngsters as fast as they report, so the fans will have something besides the fight for position to interest them during the closing weeks of the season.

Settlements Effected.

By an agreement between Dr. D. B. Anderson and the Louisville & Nashville railroad a satisfactory settlement was made for the death of a valuable buggy horse which was killed in an accident recently. Mrs. John Mansfield, who was driving the animal at the time, and who was thrown from the buggy, has also effected a settlement with the company. She receives $250 in cash and a new set of harness. The accident occurred on the Jacks-town pike at a crossing of the L. & N. while Mrs. Fightmaster was driving to Paris, a passenger train striking the buggy, breaking the neck of the horse, demolishing the vehicle and throwing the occupant out.

Hauser had the Colts' "goat" again Tuesday afternoon and the contest resulted in a score on 4 to 1 in favor of the Bourbonites.

For a time it looked as if the Colts would pull down the game as Tafferty, who proved so effective in the contest against the Pioneers was extending himself to his full length. For five innings he outguessed the locals and apparently had the contest under his thumb.

Hauser showed a little wildness at stages but his helpers put up a brilliant game behind him with the result he let the Colts down with only three hits.

The only run secured by the Colts came in the fourth, and was the result of an error although Hauser allowed one of the three hits during this frame. Smykal led off with a double to right. Ellis waited out Hauser and took the first station. Yancey grounded to Harrell and to catch Smykal Kuhlman dropped the throw. Badger lifted one to Maxwell, Smykal scoring. Ellis was caught at third and Long fanned.

The first two runs secured by Paris came in the sixth. Chapman led off with a single to left and Hauser popped a fly to Baschang. Harrell fouled to third and McKernan ripped off a stinging drive to left for two bases, scoring Chapman. Mayer singled to center, McKernan taking third and scoring on Barnett's safety. Kuhlman grounded to Long for the last out.

Two more came in the seventh. Maxwell walked and Goodman reached first on Tafferty's error. Maxwell going to third, scoring on Chapman's fly to Ellis. Goodman went to third on Sewell's muff and Hauser fanned. Harrell walked and McKernan hit to left scoring Goodman. Mayer grounded to Badger. The score: Paris.....0 0 0 0 2 2 0 x-4
Lexington.....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-1

Earned Runs—Paris 2. Two-Base Hits—Smykal, McKernan. Bases on Balls—Off Tafferty, 3; off Hauser, 4. Struck Out—By Tafferty, 3; by Hauser, 5. Left on Bases—Paris 6, Lexington 5. Double Plays—Baschang, Badger and Sewell; Maxwell, Mayer and Kuhlman; Sewell and Badger. Stolen Bases—Yancey, Harrell. Sacrifice Hits—Smykal 2, Goodman. Sacrifice Fly—Badger, Chapman. Time—2:00. Umpire—Barrett.

Hauser again accomplished the defeat of the Colts. In three games he came out victor pitching twenty-five or one-third innings, allowing but six hits and one run.

Kuhlman's error was responsible for the only run secured by the Colts. After Paris took the lead in the sixth the Colts seemed to go up in the air and hurling the ball about the diamond in the seventh was responsible for the two runs in that frame.

Tafferty was good for five innings, but the locals finally got to his slants.

McKernan's two-bagger in the sixth scoring Chapman was a beauty. He led the list with two safe drives.

Chapman started the fun with a corking single to left.

Two errors were all that were chalked up against Paris' and one of them helped the Colts to get their lone run.

Hauser whiffed Tafferty every time he faced him.

After securing enough runs in the first inning to insure victory Paris deliberately let the game at White Park Wednesday afternoon slip through their fingers and the Colts came off with the contest by a score of 6 to 5.

The game was slow and uninteresting and was marked by the indifferent fielding of both sides. Ragged errors occurred frequently and as the game dragged slowly through ten tiresome innings little was to be seen that could be termed a feature.

Little Guy Long hurled for Lexington but it was only through mediocre playing he was enabled to get away a game to the good. Heretofore his appearance on the mound meant sure victory for the locals, but he managed to get out by the skin of his teeth.

Shears, the lengthy side wheeler, showed up to anything but a good advantage and pitched the most miserable game since he began his career as a Bourbonite. At no time did he show anything other than a fast straight ball, and when he attempted the use of a curve it was heaved at a bitter capable to hitting the like and his offerings were invariably "pickled." However, he managed somehow to whiff nine of the Colts.

Out of the even dozen hits made off of Shears five of the number went for extra bases and he passed four men and hit one, three of the number scoring. But all of the credit for letting the Colts slip one over does not belong to Shears. In the tenth when Baschang had doubled and Sewel slipped his first hit through second, McKernan heaved the ball to the grandstand, far out of the reach of Mayer, when a perfect throw would have nipped Baschang at the plate. Chapman's error in the sixth put Smykal on second when the clean fielding of the ball would have retired the runner at second, but instead he was scored by Yancey's double.

Summed up in a very few words the locals put up a miserable exhibition and excuses are useless. The visitors played no better but luck favored them in the last round. The score: Lexington.....0 1 0 1 2 1 0 0 1-6
Paris.....4 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-5

Batteries—Paris, Shears and Mayer; Lexington, Long and Sewell. Errors—Paris 5, Lexington 5. Hits—Paris 10,

Lexington 12. Two base hits—Badger 2, Yancey, Maxwell, Smykal 2. Bases on balls—off Long 4, off Shears 4. Struck out—by Long 4, by Shears 10. Left on bases—Paris 8, Lexington 10. Double plays—Kuhlman, Barnett; Harrell, Mayer, Kuhlman. Hit by pitcher—Yancey. Sacrifice fly—Smykal. Sacrifice hit—Viox. Time—2:30. Umpire—Barrett. Attendance—300.

Frankfort 3, Maysville 3, 14 innings. Winchester 8, Richmond 7.

McKernan used very poor judgment in the eighth when with three balls and no strikes fouled a high one which was an easy cut for Badger.

Chapman led the locals in hitting securing three safe drives out of five trips to the plate, which served in a degree to make up for his error.

McKernan reached first twice on errors only to be forced at second by Mayer each time.

Only in one session did the visitors fail to get a man on first.

Maxwell got two into safe territory one of which was a two-bagger.

The game was drawn out two hours and a half all on account of Umpire Barrett who would not hasten things along. The official allowed the Yancey crew to prolong the game by several useless arguments. Barrett was considerably off in his decisions, principally on balls and strikes.

Long passed three men in the first inning and allowed two hits which resulted in four runs. Baschang chipped in with an error and Sewel made a wild heave which helped matters some.

Valandingham, who was sent in to bat for Eddington in the ninth, hit into a double.

"Bugs" Eddington made four trips to the plate and each time he whiffed the wind.

Richmond 10, Winchester 2. Maysville-Lexington, no game.

Blue Grass Players Can't Toss Ball Around.

President William Neal has issued a ruling prohibiting the Blue Grass League players from tussling the ball about unnecessarily during the innings. The pitchers will be allowed to throw three balls to the catcher to warm up, but the other players will be given stiff fines if they throw the pill around and thus prolong the game. This order went into effect yesterday. According to President Neal, the games will be cut short at least twenty minutes.

Paris At Lexington Sunday.

Paris and Lexington will meet in a double-header on the Lexington grounds Sunday afternoon and the two contests are of more than ordinary interest owing to the narrow margin which separates the two clubs.

Today the Bourbonites will close the series with the Lawmakers and tomorrow will try conclusions with the Hustlers at Winchester.

In the present standing Paris is three full games ahead of Lexington and chances for her maintaining the lead is very bright. However, the Colts may be expected to put up a strong argument in the double bill to be pulled off Sunday afternoon and will make a strong effort to pull the Bourbonites off their lofty perch.

Hauser, who has pitched such excellent ball against the Colts may be saved by McKernan to turn the trick Sunday. By working Shears or George in the game tomorrow, he will be given another day's rest. Hauser has shown wonderful endurance in his games against Lexington. On one occasion he pitched eighteen innings to a tie and Thursday, a week ago, won two games in an afternoon pitching one no-hit, no run game. Tuesday he performed against Yancey's men again and came out the best. It is more than likely McKernan will use him in both games.

The local fans will have an opportunity of seeing the game as special interurban cars will leave Paris at 12:50 and going direct to the ball park will arrive about 2 o'clock. The round trip fare will be 60 cents. The first game will be called at 2:15 o'clock.

May Establish Manufacturing Plant.

It is rumored that the Burley Tobacco Society is formulating plans for the establishment at Lexington of a mammoth tobacco manufacturing plant, by which the millions of pounds of the pooled tobacco which the Burley Society still has on hand can be manufactured and placed on the market, and the society thus be independent of the Tobacco Trust in securing a profitable price for the big stock which the society has held so long.

The general plan, as outlined by a prominent tobacco man, is to have the growers authorize the society to use the 10 per cent reserve fund accruing from the pool, which now aggregates, it is said, more than half a million dollars, and to secure additional subscriptions of stock or tobacco to make up a capitalization of something like $2,000,000 which, it is figured, will be sufficient to finance the proposed enterprise.

Leader Killed and Followers Flee.

Seemingly seeking revenge for testimony given against him in court, Bud Turner, of Quickand, Breathitt county, led a party of friends in an attack on a railroad camp near Jackson. At the first exchange Turner was killed and his followers fled.

Turner was arrested recently on charges of "botlegging" whisky to the railway camps on the Lexington & Eastern extension. Several laborers and J. W. Hilliard, a foreman, appeared in court against him.

Says "Let 'Em Cry."

In a talk before a circle of mothers Mrs. Nan Deneen of the Milwaukee children's hospital, urged mothers not to shake their babies. "Let 'em cry," she said. "It does 'em good."

A Physician's Answer.

A patient once asked her physician why his mustache was black and his hair was gray. "Why," he replied, "my mustache is twenty years younger than the hair on my head."

Opera House Burglarized.

Entrance was effected into the opera house Monday night in a mysterious manner, as all the doors were found securely locked Tuesday morning, and only one window was unfurnished, and it showed no signs of having been entered. The burglar went into the dressing rooms and ransacked the trunks of the vaudeville performers, scattering the contents over the floor. Nothing was taken except two hand-some pistols, one a silver-mounted pearl handled weapon, and both being the property of Prof. Costello, who did some fancy shooting during the performances Monday and Tuesday evenings with the pearl handled one, which was valued highly by the owner, he having used it in his acts for several years.

Getting to Like Aged Cigars.

The number of Americans who are getting into the habit of appreciating age in cigars, as in wine, is rapidly increasing, according to an authority at the Waldorf. In the vaults under the Thirty-fourth street sidewalk is a big room where cigars are kept and one lot has been there since 1898.—New York Sun.

Flanders "20" again made clean sweep, awarded first and second, all the prizes there were in her class, in ten days reliability run, Minneapolis to Helena, Montana, hardest contest any light car ever entered. 390 miles over mountains and plains, worst road in America and rained most every day. Mud hub deep. The two Flanders were only cars in her class to finish with perfect scores and only one other car of any price, a Mormon $2,700, finished perfect. Cars penalized included Packard Stoddard, Dayton, Abbott, Detroit, Amplex, Cole, Kirt, Hupmobile, Maxwell and other small fry. This is second great victory for Flanders "20" in a month, other was perfect road scores in Iowa's "little glidden. No other $800 car on earth can stand up with Flanders "20" in hard road work, and in this latest contest she went out of her class and trimmed the four thousand dollar fellows.

Purchases Interest in Implement Business.

Mr. Edward Pritchard has purchased an interest in the old reliable implement firm of Yerkes & Kenney, taking over the interest of Mr. Clarence Kenney, who will retire. The change in the firm will become effective August 10. The firm of Yerkes & Kenney has been in existence for a number of years and is an implement establishment of the highest standard. The fact that Mr. Pritchard will assume an interest assures the patrons of the old firm a continuation of business along the same high plane that has characterized the career of the old firm during the past. Mr. Pritchard is a young business man of sterling qualities, and his association with Mr. Yerkes will form a combination of unexcelled ability and business integrity.

This implement house was established thirty years ago by Mr. R. J. Neely, who for years supplied this section with the best lines to be offered and when succeeded by Yerkes & Kenney, the reputation established by Mr. Neely was maintained.

When Mr. Pritchard assumes an interest in the establishment they will maintain the reputation of their predecessors, and handle the best line of farming implements, buggies and supplies of all kinds. They are also agents for the celebrated Buick automobile.

Burley Society Reports.

The District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society met Wednesday in Lexington and gave detailed reports as to the condition of the Society and the Burley Tobacco Company. The receipts for the 1909 account totaled $7,286,167.19, and of this amount $5,315,886.06 was paid to the growers. A balance in various banks of $70,455.60 was reported.

Bad Men Jailed.

Charged with disorderly conduct and the reckless discharge of firearms Lloyd Jones, W. H. Peddicord, W. H. Jones, Grafton Stuart and W. V. Greeves, all from Harrison county, were taken from an L. & N. passenger train Tuesday evening and lodged in jail by Chief of Police Elgin.

The men boarded the train, due to arrive here at 6:20, at Winchester and all of the party were fully imbued. At Ecandida this county they became boisterous, frightening the passengers and pulling their revolvers made an attempt to wreck the coach by firing through the ceiling.

A telegram was sent to Paris and when the train pulled in here Chief Elgin boarded it and took the rowdies into custody.

The men, who were enroute to Cynthiana had in their possession several suit cases which contained bottled whiskey.

The case was transferred from Police Court to the county court owing to the fact the offense was committed outside the city. The men gave bond with J. C. Light, of Cynthiana, as surety, for their appearance in court Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Fight Results from Argument.

As the result of a political argument Dr. Hugh Johnson, of Paris and J. D. Bryan, of Carlisle, became involved in a difficulty in the latter city Wednesday afternoon. Several blows were exchanged and Johnson received a gash on the right side of his neck from a knife in the hands of Bryson.

The facts leading up to the difficulty could not be learned other than that the men were engaged in a heated argument over politics, which grew to such an extent that Bryson, infuriated at Johnson's remarks, made the attack.

Johnson, it is said, defended himself the best he could against the knife held by Bryson, and succeeded in overcoming his antagonist after a hard struggle. When bystanders interfered Johnson seemed to be getting the better of the argument.

Dr. Johnson was formerly engaged in the drug business in Carlisle, and now conducts a saloon in this city. Mr. Bryson is postmaster at Carlisle and prominent in Republican politics in Nicholas county.

MOVED THE CONGREGATION.

De Koven Did It One Way, the Church Organist Another.

It is said that once when Reginald de Koven was touring the country he found himself in the town of Dayton on Sunday. They told Mr. de Koven that an Episcopal church in the neighborhood had a superb organ. Accordingly he went to that church, ascended the organ loft and sat beside the organist during the morning's service.

"You seem to know something about music," said the organist in a condescending way. "I'll let you dismiss the congregation if you like."

"Why, yes," said Mr. de Koven; "I would like that very much."

Accordingly at the end of the recessional he changed places with the organist and began to play Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." He played beautifully. The Dayton people, enthralled by the wonderful music, refused to depart.

A HEAVY HAND WAS LAID ON HIS SHOULDER.

They sat in rapt enjoyment, and after the "Spring Song" was finished Mr. de Koven began something of Chopin's.

Suddenly a heavy hand was laid on his shoulder and he was pushed off the music stool. "You can't dismiss a congregation," said the organist impatiently. "Watch and see how soon I'll get them out."

The organist was right. Half a dozen notes started the congregation toward the doors.—Argonaut.

Unappreciated.

The attorneys for the prosecution and defense had been allowed fifteen minutes each to argue the case. The attorney for the defense had commenced his argument with an allusion to the old swimming hole of his boyhood days. He told in flowery oratory of the balmy air, the singing birds, the joy of youth, the delights of the cool water—

And in the midst of it he was interrupted by the drawing voice of the judge.

"Come out, Chauncey," he said, "and put on your clothes. Your fifteen minutes are up."—Success Magazine.

Handy With Texts.

James Whitcomb Riley told a story of an old fellow who asked for work at the Riley farm in the poet's boyhood. He was set at hoeing potatoes, but did not prove to be especially industrious. When taken to task for his lack of application he only replied, "Waal, the good book says, 'Do all things in moderation.'"

"Well, it came on dinner time at last," says the humorist, "and the old codger did his share nobly. In fact, he ate enough to kill two or three ordinary men. Some one gently hinted that the text didn't seem to apply. He opened a worn little Bible and imperturbably pointed to a passage. It read, 'Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might.'"

One Exception.

It used to be told of General Logan, who was a member of congress at the breaking out of the war, that when he saw there was really going to be a fight he seized a musket, slipped out of Washington and walked all the way to Bull Run, where he arrived just in time to have a hand in the fray.

He wore a dress coat, but he stood his ground as long as any one. The rout was complete, and the next morning, a good deal out of breath, he was back at the capitol, telling some of his fellow congressmen what he had seen.

"Who gave you this account of the fight?" asked a member from northern New York as he joined the group.

"Why, I was there myself," said Logan.

The New Yorker was mystified. Apparently he had not heard the news.

"You were there?" he exclaimed.

"Are the cars running?"

"No," said Logan; "the cars ain't running, but every other thing in the state of Virginia is, as near as I could make out."

He Didn't Care.

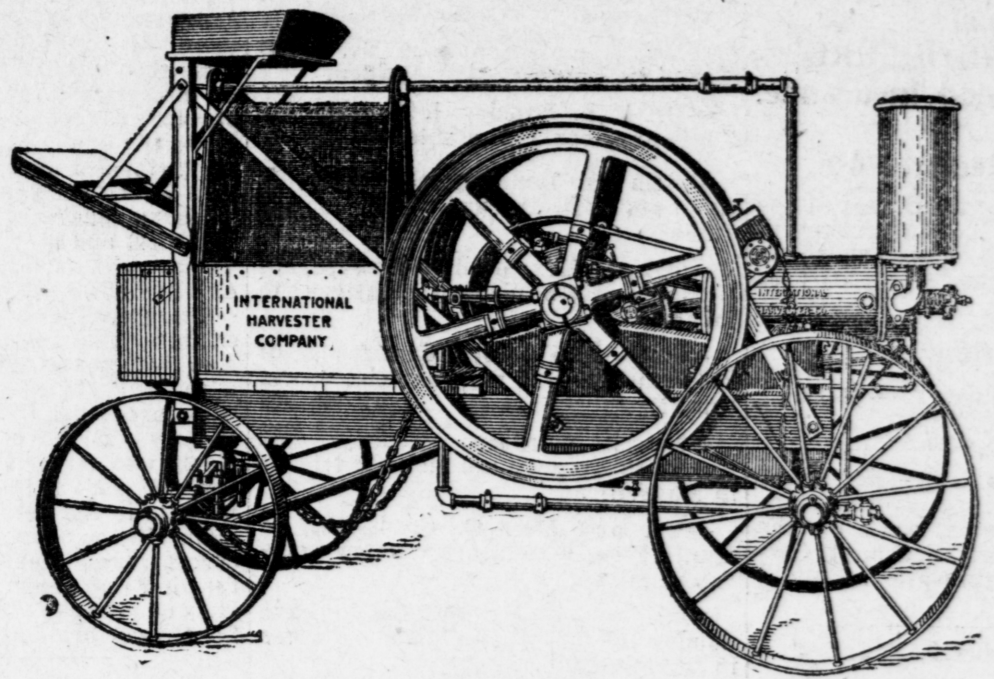

The usual large crowd was gathered at the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge waiting for trolley cars. An elderly lady, red in face, flustered and fussy, dug her elbows into convenient ribs irrespective of owners. A fat man on her left was the recipient of a particularly vicious jab. She yelled at him, "Say!"

He winced slightly and moved to one side.

She, too, sidestepped and thumped him vigorously on the back.

"Say," she persisted, "does it make any difference which of these cars I take to Greenwood cemetery?"

"Not to me, madam," he answered, slipping through an opening in the crowd.

The Oldest Map.

After some controversy about the age of various maps that have come down to us from ancient times it has been finally determined by savants that the oldest is in the form of a mosaic in a Byzantine church at Malaba, in Palestine. It is about 1,700 years old and purports to be a map of a part of the Holy Land.

Warning to Guests.

In the fortress at Marienburg the great dining hall bears this inscription: "He who wishes to eat here must be delicate in his eating, chaste in his conversation and peaceful in his manner; above all, pious and loyal; if not, he will soon receive notice to quit."

Reassuring.

Terrified Rider (in hired motor car):—I say—I say—you're going much too fast. Chauffeur—Oh, you'll all right, sir. We always insure our passengers.

Relieved Embarrassment.

"Dear Clara," wrote the young man, "pardon me, but I'm getting so forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but really forget whether you said yes or no." "Dear Will," she replied by note, "so glad to hear from you. I know I said 'no' to some one last night, but I had forgotten just who it was."—London Opinion.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

Tortured for Fifteen Years.
by a cure-defying trouble that baffled doctor, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY
It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?
But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!
A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.
If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

SOCRATES ON PHILOSOPHY.

He Shows That a Witticism May Do Real Good.

Socrates—Glaucou, what would you say philosophy is?

Glaucou—I should say that, broadly speaking, it is putting two and two together.

Socrates—That is, to some purpose?

Glaucou—Of course.

Socrates—Therefore to say that nobody is very enthusiastic about our great victory over the Cunningham coal claims because it is not the time of year when anybody cares whether we defend our coal pile or not would not be philosophy?

Glaucou—No; that would be a sort of witticism.

Socrates—Which is unworthy of a philosopher?

Glaucou—Yes.

Socrates—That is, it could serve no other purpose than probably to make somebody laugh?

Glaucou—Exactly.

Socrates—It would not be doing any good?

Glaucou—No.

Socrates—That is to say, it would not do the person who laughed any good?

Glaucou—Well, yes. Laughing, I dare say, does any one good.

Socrates—Therefore we have to consider whether by doing good we mean the individual or society generally?

Glaucou—Yes.

Socrates—Which do we mean?

Glaucou—You are splitting hairs a little too fine for me, Socrates.

Socrates—Nonsense. If one did an individual good without doing society harm would that be doing good?

Glaucou—Yes.

Socrates—Therefore to make some one laugh might very easily be doing good?

Glaucou—Certainly.

Socrates—And to say that this is not the season when any one cares whether we defend our coal pile or not probably would make some one laugh?

Glaucou—It might.

Socrates—And thus do him considerable good?

Glaucou—You never can tell.

Socrates—Which would give it a purpose?

Glaucou—True.

Socrates—And make it philosophy?

Glaucou—By Jove, Socrates, you have me nicely!

Socrates—Very well. Now let us all go down and see who can hold his head under water the longest.—Clark McAdams in St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Justification.

"I may have lost my golf ball," thought the old man as he crept on all fours round the bush into which it had rolled, "but I will not lose my temper."

So he continued to grovel and grope and to wear a persuasive, patient smile. His knees bagged, his back ached horribly, and the bush bestowed upon his hands a generous quantity of thorns. But he refused to discard his smile and kept on repeating:

"No; I will not lose my temper—I will not!"

Suddenly the elusive ball caught his eye. Flopping flat, he stretched out his hand toward it, grasped it among its nest of thorns and gingerly withdrew it.

"Hoity toity!" exclaimed an old lady's voice behind him. "You ought to be ashamed, birdnesting at your time of life!" And then he did lose his temper.—Answers.

Mere Matter of Speed.

The Reading railway's lawyer was cross examining a negro woman who had sworn that she saw a train hit a milk wagon, whose bandaged driver had just testified. No, she had not heard the engine blow any whistle whatsoever.

"How near were you to the train?" the lawyer asked her sharply.

She didn't know exactly. It might have been so far and it might have been a little farther.

"But how far?" the lawyer persisted.

"A mile, or a square, or what? How long would it have taken you to walk the distance?"

"Sub," the witness replied haughtily.

"That would depend entirely on my speed."—Clermont Courier.

FREE SAMPLE OF LAXATIVE CURED HIS CONSTIPATION

When a person has become discouraged through years of failure to find a cure, and finally, perhaps, gives up trying, it is small wonder that he becomes skeptical. And yet, to all who have constipation, we would say, "Try just one thing more."

We wish you would try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative tonic that has been used for a generation. Thousands are using it; surely some of your friends among the number. You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, but better still, send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. He will send you enough to convince you of its merits, and then if you like it you can buy it of your druggist. Mr. J. J. Petty of Unionville, Mo., Mr. George W. Zimmerman of Harrisburg, Pa., and many others of both sexes and in all parts of the country first used a sample bottle and now have it regularly in the house.

YOU TRY BLOODLINE

We Know BLOODLINE Will Help You To Regain Your Strength and Energy.

Report of the Head Physician in a Leading New York Hospital on the Cure of Cataract.

"A few years ago we considered that we were doing well if we cured ten per cent. of the cases of cataract brought to us, but since the introduction of 'Bloodline' into our hospital we cure more than 90 per cent. of all the cases of Cataract in its various forms brought to us. Cataract of the Head, Cataract of the Eyes, Cataract of the Bladder and Urethra, Cataract of the large intestines, Cataract of the Larynx, Pelvic Cataract, Cataract of the Throat, and Cataract of the Stomach are quickly cured with 'Bloodline.' It builds new tissues, gives new energy, new life, new blood and strength to any part of the body attacked by the Cataractal germs."

Bloodline is a powerful tonic, nourishing food medicine, composed of valuable tonic stimulants obtained from vegetable drugs. "Bloodline" contains no narcotics or other dangerous drugs which merely deaden pain temporarily, but give no permanent relief or cure the cause of your disease. "Bloodline" is a powerful body builder and blood maker; it is the best remedy known to the medical profession to enrich thin, watery blood and supply new, rich red blood to the whole body.

The twentieth annual meeting of the Hurst Home Insurance Company was held at its office in Millersburg, Ky., on Wednesday, August 9.

The auditing committee composed of the delegates from the counties of Scott and Harrison in making their report incorporated into it the report of the State Inspector Mr. H. S. Vansant of the Insurance Department at Frankfort who examined into the condition of the company last week. Their reports show that the company is in an excellent condition and that they had made a net gain of over $600,000 business within the last twelve months and a net gain in business of over $2,000,000 in the past four years. Financially the company is in better condition than ever before and the president and secretary whose term of office expired with this meeting received many congratulations on their successful administration.

The officers and directors present were as follows: J. G. Allen, president, F. F. Hurst, Manager and secretary, C. C. Chanslor, assistant secretary, J. H. Campbell, inspector, Millersburg; Jas. T. Clarke, J. D. Yocum, agent, Thomas Coons, G. W. Humphries, Montgomery; W. C. Hall, W. W. Clarke, Bath; Fayette Vaughn, J. A. Turpin, J. H. Jones, Madison; J. H. Ood-Smith, Jasper McDonald, J. F. Lanter, Clark; John G. Blair, C. S. Templeman, C. W. Durham, Nicholas; J. G. Shropshire, R. S. Sprake, Scott; C. H. Dalzell, W. F. Heathman, William Burroughs, T. W. Current, O. H. Collier, agent, Bourbon; J. H. Roberts, agent, N. S. Terry, J. H. Shropshire, D. E. McCauley, Harrison; Dr. Gragg, Richard Downing, Fayette; George L. Collins, W. W. Quinn, Jessamine. Guests: Dr. Huffman, Bourbon; Edward Cochran, Fleming; Robert Caldwell and Col. C. M. Best, Bourbon.

The election of officers resulted in the election of Mr. J. G. Allen as president for next four years and Mr. F. F. Hurst as manager and secretary, and for the executive committee Mr. J. G. Blair, W. M. Burroughs and T. W. Current. At 12:30 the meeting adjourned for dinner and after partaking of an excellent repast, prepared by Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. Ed Cochran, the general routine of work was taken up again at 1:30 p. m. At 2:40 p. m. the meeting adjourned. This meeting was one of the most pleasant that the company has ever experienced and the balloting with one exception was unanimous on every proposition presented.

Democratic Primary Called for Sept. 22.

The Democratic Executive Committee of this city met last night and issued a call for a Democratic primary to be held in Paris on Tuesday, Sept. 22 for the purpose of selecting candidates for Councilmen to be voted for at the regular election in November. The call is as follows:

Paris, Ky., Aug. 10, 1911.

Be it ordered by this, the Democratic Executive Committee of the City of Paris, Ky.

That a primary election be held at the several voting places in the city of Paris, Ky., on the 22nd day of September 1911, between the hours of 6 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of nominating three Democratic candidates for the office of councilmen from the first and second wards respectively and one from the third.

That only legally qualified voters of the city of Paris who are legally registered as Democrats shall be entitled to vote in said election.

That each candidate shall pay his proportion of the expenses of the said election and that said expenses shall be equally divided between all of the candidates and that each candidate shall before August 22nd, 1911, deposit with the clerk of this committee the amount of his apportionment of said expenses or the name of any candidate shall be stricken from the list of candidates and not be considered at said election.

That if before the 22nd day of Aug., 1911 there shall not be announced more than three Democratic candidates from the first or second ward or one from the third ward, then those candidates so announced from any ward shall be declared by the chairman of this committee to be the regular nominees for councilmen from that ward and no election shall be held for the nomination in that ward.

Chairman of the Democratic City Committee, J. WILL THOMAS, Secretary.

Bourbon People Attend Fair.

Paris and Bourbon county were well represented at the Blue Grass Fair yesterday. Early yesterday morning residents outside the city began to arrive here and all the outgoing cars before noon were crowded to the guards. It is estimated that the attendance at the fair yesterday was [the largest in the history of the organization.

Damage Done by Storm.

A terrific rain and hailstorm occurred in Woodford county Wednesday. The hailstones were of extraordinary size and did much damage to tobacco, not only cutting the leaves, but breaking them from the stalk.

Arm Broken.

Luther Williams, colored, a teamster in the employ of M. J. Murphy & Co., suffered a painful accident Wednesday afternoon. Williams was driving a team near the L. & N. depot, when his foot slipped off the brake. He fell from the high seat of the transfer wagon to the ground, one wheel passing over his left arm, breaking it between the shoulder and elbow. Another wheel passed over his right foot badly mashing it. He was taken to the office of Drs. Fithian & Daugherty, where Dr. C. G. Daugherty attended his injuries.

Unusual Relationships.

Numerous and very unusual relationships figure in the family of Mrs. Nancy King, aged eighty-seven, who died recently at Gilmore's Mill, Connelville township, Fayette county, Pa. Deceased was the mother of ten daughters and two sons. Four of the daughters married Lichters, twin daughters married Tannehill brothers and two other daughters married Buttermore brothers. Nine children and many grandchildren of Mrs. King survive her.

Headache in Her Feet.

Helen is a little 4-year-old, with old-fashioned, grown-up ways. Like most healthy children, she wakes early in the morning, so her grandmother, who is a late riser, gives her a hand mirror and powder puff to play with for an hour before she gets up. On a recent morning she was found with the mirror at the foot of the bed, and gravely said to her grandparent: "That's my foot warmer. I've got such a headache in my feet."

Superstition in New York.

New Yorkers may laugh at Chicago as unduly superstitious. In cutting thirteen out in renumbering its down town buildings, states the New York Tribune, but that same superstition is honored right here at home. Not one of the latest skyscrapers has a thirteenth floor, the renting agents insisting on skipping the number on the ground that tenants object to it as a hoodoo.

Warship as Mussel Bed.

The cruiser Champion, training ship for the second class stokers at Chatham, has just been taken into dry dock after lying seven years in the Medway. The Champion's bottom was found to be covered with an immense accumulation of barnacles and weeds. It is estimated that 40 tons of mussels alone have been got off.—London Daily Graphic.

Will Ask Discharge of Negroes.

The telephone linemen of Clark county are circulating a petition among the telephone workers and phone subscribers asking that the East Tennessee Telephone Company discharge its colored linemen and employ white men in their place.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Texas, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Quick, safe, sure, its best remedy on earth for colds, coughs, lagrippe, asthma, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

Saturday, August 26th, 1911

at the court house door in the city of Paris, Ky., about 11 o'clock a. m. sell the property described in the judgment and ordered to be sold in this action or enough thereof to satisfy plaintiff's judgment and costs being including costs of sale, on a credit of six months, to-wit:

A certain house and parcel of ground on the waters of Hinkston creek in the town of Shippsville, Bourbon county, Ky., particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stone corner to Lewis Peters, running with the road 22 1-2 yards to a stone on the same side of the road; thence west 110 yards to a stone on Thomas Shipp's line; thence S. 22 1-2 yards to Peters' corner; thence E. 110 yards to the beginning, containing one-half acre.

The purchaser will be required to execute bonds for the purchase money with approved surety, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from date until paid, payable to the undersigned Master Commissioner. Said sale will be made to satisfy plaintiff's debt and interest amounting on the day of sale to $86.45, and costs of this action, including the costs of sale amounting to the sum of $63.32, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $149.77.
